Jubilee move may be blocked

County, casino work on compromise

BY ED LEPOMA
Attorneys for the county and Jubilee Casino will have the weekend to come to an agreement on how and when Jubilee will pay Hancock County overdue taxes before the gambling barge can move from its moorings at Bayou Caddy.

Supervisors and the Hancock County Tax Assessor were stunned and disappointed this week when they learned that the Alpha Hospitality Corp., wants to move the Jubilee to what they say is a more lucrative market in Greenville, Miss.

In its place, Alpha is attempting to purchase the much smaller "Cotton Club" paddlewheeler, and tow it from Greenville to Bayou Caddy.

At its meeting Thursday, Sam Keyes, the Jackson-based attorney hired by the county and Assessor Eddie Murtagh, went into a closed-door, executive session with the Board of Supervisors to see what they legally could do to make sure that Jubilee pays its back taxes and taxes due for 1995 before the barge pulls away from the dock.

Supervisors authorized Keyes to inform Alpha Gulf Coast, which operates the Jubilee, that they will require a security bond posted in the amount of $641,000 before the barge can be moved. The security bond amount would cover

Waveland to pursue money owed

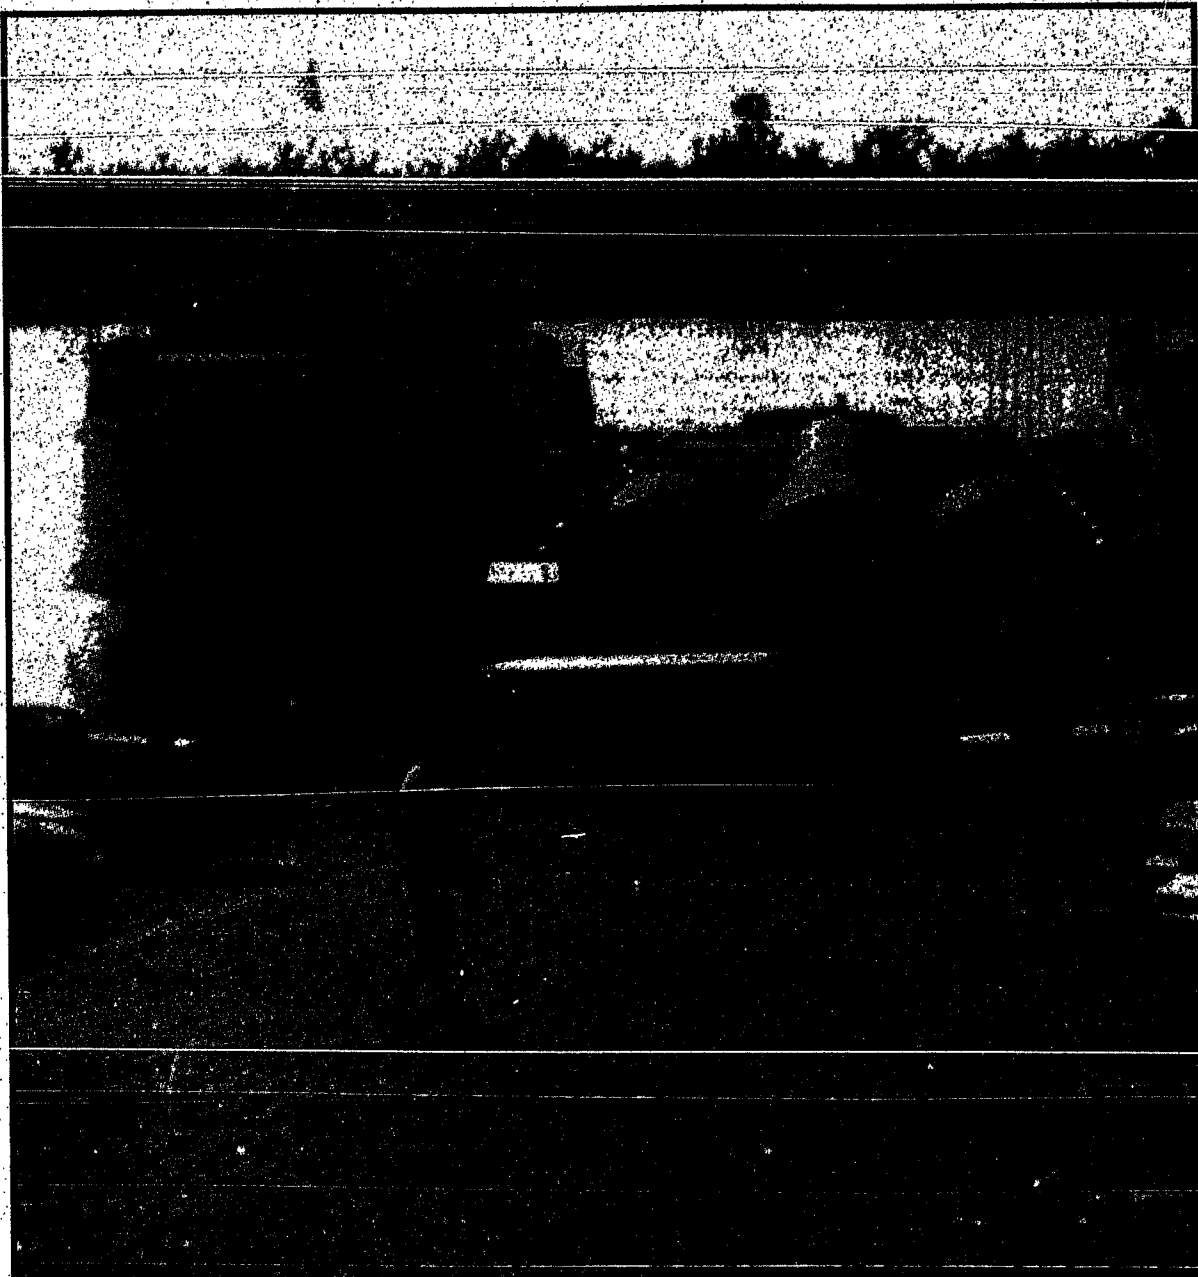

BY RICHARD MEEK

Before the Jubilee Casino departs Bayou Caddy for waters north, the City of Waveland is hoping to collect nearly $3,000 owed for sewage services.

The casino is delinquent for $1,247.53 in July and $1,698.88 in August, records show. City attorney Ronnie Artigues, Jr. said although the city is unable to put a lien against the casino, he said all other legal avenues will be pursued to collect the money.

Also undetermined is the cost of electricity used to operate the sewage pumps. City officials said once those costs are determined, they will be tacked on to the sewage fees.

Jubilee officials announced plans last week to swap vessels with the Cotton Club Casino in Greenville, MS. The Cotton Club is a considerably smaller vessel.

Coastal Clinic closes doors

BY ED LEPOMA

Coastal Family Clinic closed its doors in Bay St. Louis Friday, but will consider re-opening at a free site offered by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors met Thursday, and authorized a letter be sent to Coastal's Executive Director, Kathryn Shanks. In that letter, Supervisors offered Coastal free use of the now-vacant, former county health Department building on Dunbar Avenue.

The Board will also continue to allocate $10,000 to Coastal in county funds to offset operating expenses.

"Our consensus is that the needs of the lower income citizens of Hancock County would be best served by keeping your Bay St. Louis center open," Board President Mike Ladner told Shanks in the letter.

Supervisors also suggested that if Coastal reopens, "the staff be downsized to include basic services only to be delivered by one physician and supporting nursing and clerical personnel."

They recommended that the physician selected to work with

County marina nudges forward

BY ED LEPOMA

Hancock County's proposed marina got a good push forward this week with a check for $500,000 from the state's Tideland Trust Fund.

An enlarged copy of the check—and the actual check for the half-million—was presented Thursday to the Board of Supervisors. Making the presentation were: Glade Woods, director of the State Department of Marine Resources, DMR Commissioner Oliver Sahugue, and state Sen. Bill Johnson and state Rep. J.P. Compretta.

Board President Mike Ladner said receipt of the Residents seek to halt waste expansion

BY ED LEPOMA

Angry residents of the Bayou Phillips community have asked Hancock County Supervisors to halt expansion of a waste and recycling operation planned on Harbor Drive.

Supervisors said there's legally little they can do to stop it because county residents, years ago, rejected a comprehensive zoning ordinance which would regulate businesses in unincorporated areas.

Wilmer Seymour, who represents District 4, where Boudin's Waste and Recycling has been operating for two years, sympathized with Harbor Drive residents who came to the Board of Supervisors meeting Thursday.

"I have tried to see what I can do legally," he said. Because of the lack of zoning, Seymour said Joey Boudin, who runs the operation, can do anything he wants on property he owns on Harbor Drive.

Seymour and other supervisors heard complaints from residents that Boudin's operation was "hostile to the health of the community."

Wayne Miller said Boudin's fleet of garbage trucks is ruining streets in the Bayou Phillips community, and particularly on Harbor Drive.

Albert Weiss told supervisors he had a petition signed by over 600 residents asking various government agencies to shut down the operation.

He said the county has already spent more than $46,000 on a bridge over Bayou Phillips, and "it is in danger of failing because of the weight loads going over it."

REFLECTIONS ON LIFE

By Father Jerome LeDoux, SVD

"The snap is made. The kick is up. It's good! The Falcons win! Morten Anderson has done it again!"

There was no joy in the Louisiana Superdome that August 17, but there must have been mirth among the angels, seeing how closely the New Orleans Saints followed the script of the gospel according to Jesus Christ:

"If anyone wants to go to law with you over your tunic, hand him your cloak as well" (Mt. 5:40). Saints' version: "If anyone asks you for a field goal, give him four."

Running back Mario Bates and his earth-hugging cohorts quote the Master each time they drag themselves up from the ground spewing mouthfuls of turf: "Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the land" (Mt. 5:5).

The defensive backs rarely steal the juicy passes which are air-mailed by the opposing quarterbacks to their devious confederates on the field. Obviously, those backs heed the command, "You shall not steal" (Ex. 20:15; Mt. 19:18).

In the first three contests of 1995, quarterback Jim Everett has contributed two balls, and the corps of running backs has given generously to the enemy numerous times in response to the urgent plea of Jesus:

"Love your enemies, do good to those who hate you, pray for those who mistreat you.... Be merciful, just as your Father is merciful" (Lk. 6:27, 36).

That same strain of mercy and generosity keeps right on through the whole wonderful attitude of the Saints. It is especially noticeable when they have done something wrong and must be punished for their foul play.

Dutifully they accept their many penalties with such a humble spirit that they should serve as a shining example of repentance, forgiveness and reconciliation to the whole NFL. The front line spends much of its time kneeling in prayer.

"Return to me with your whole heart, with fasting, and weeping, and mourning. Rend your hearts, not your garments, and return to the Lord" (Joel 2:12-13).

How admirable it is to see the stout-hearted Saints try so hard to avoid hurting the enemy with an awful collision, with a slam to the turf or a stiff arm to the face. No Bear, no Panther, not even a Cowboy can do it so gently as a Saint.

They deserve the praise of Jesus: "Blessed are the peacemakers, for they will be called children of God" (Mt. 5:9).

Without their fans realizing or appreciating it, the Saints are teaching them constantly by noble example to be patient and long-suffering, not grasping blindly for instant victory at any cost, but working for the final victory:

"See that you not be deceived, for many will come in my name saying, 'The time has come.' ... By your perseverance you will secure your lives" (Lk. 21:8, 19).

Over a quarter of a century of disappointment, hypertension, heart palpitation and chewed nails can add up to a very sour, bitter disposition in people who firmly believed that the Saints could not possibly go wrong in any venture on earth.

Beware, Saints fans, and all you other frustrated fans of other beleaguered teams out there. Do not be quick to label your team "The Aints." They teach adversity well. All things work together for good for those who love God" (Rom. 8:28).

Five free mammograms offered at October 4 seminar at HMC

Radiologist Michael Diaz, M.D., will present a free community education workshop entitled Why Mammograms? Wednesday, Oct. 4, 7 p.m., in the Hancock Medical Center classroom.

Five women attending will each receive a coupon for a free mammogram as part of the hospital's observation of National Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

Coupons also will be distributed for a $50 baseline (or first) mammogram, or $10 off the regular price of the test for return mammogram patients.

Diaz will discuss the role of mammography in the early detection of breast cancer, and will answer commonly asked questions about the test.

A mammogram is an x-ray picture of the breast. Modern equipment and techniques expose women to only minimal amounts of radiation during the test. Trained radiologic technologists and mammographers take care to ensure the patient is caused little or no discomfort during the procedure.

Mammography professionals at Hancock Medical Center, including Jeanie Moran (RT)(R)(M), Sally Jaynes RDMS (RT), Pat Schiro (RT)(R) and Julie Rutherford (RT)(R), will be present during the seminar to answer technical questions about the test.

The American Cancer Society recommends a three-step program for the early detection of breast cancer in asymptomatic women:

*Have regular mammograms; screening by age 40; one every year or two to age 49; and every year after 50.

*See your doctor for regular breast exams: at least every three years between the ages of 20 and 40, and every year after 40.

*Practice monthly breast self-exam: ask your doctor, nurse or mammography technologist to teach you the proper method.

See your doctor immediately if you experience any of the following: a lump or thickening that does not go away or seem to change; swelling, puckering or dimpling; skin irritation, pain or tenderness of the nipple.

Early detection gives a woman her best chance for survival. The five-year survival rate for breast cancer is: 92 percent if the cancer has not spread; 71 percent if it has spread to nearby organs; and 18 percent if it has spread throughout the body.

For additional information on mammography or about the seminar, call 467-9081, ext. 2261.

Pass to decide new mayor Tuesday

BY ED LEPOMA

There is some common ground, but also glaring differences of opinions between two candidates running for the unexpired term of mayor of Pass Christian.

The Pass Christian Chamber of Commerce sponsored and advertised a "Public Forum" Wednesday night, and invited townspeople to come out to the high school auditorium to hear the three candidates. A crowd of nearly 100 turned out. Voters will go to the polls on Tuesday to decide on an interim mayor to fill out the term of Ted Lawyer, who recently left office.

Bill McDonald, a former supervisor who served three terms representing Harrison County's District 3, didn't show.

But, two-term incumbent Alderman Margaret Jean Kalif came, and exchanged views with challenger Joe Kelly, a young lawyer who has never run for public office, and now seeks the city's number one job. Each candidate was given five minutes to briefly state their platform, reasons for running, and visions for Pass Christian.

By a draw of cards, Kelly went first and said he was running "to rid our city of politics that has so long dominated" decisions facing Pass Christian.

He said he planned to put the city on a sound fiscal course, and blasted the property tax hike recently approved by the Board of Aldermen.

He said he didn't understand the need to raise property taxes when the new Delchamps will bring added sales tax revenue into the city's treasury.

Kelly said he would change the way the city does business, and "would not cater to special interests."

He asked voters to "cast aside the professional politicians." Kalif, who is in her second term representing the citizens of Ward 2, told citizens she was proud of her accomplishments, and work in city government.

She said she has supported over $1 million in drainage projects during her six years in office, which has substantially reduced flooding in some areas. She has also worked to pave more streets, hire additional police, improve recreational facilities, and supported harbor improvements.

Kalif said she would fight to preserve the beauty of Pass Christian, but would also try to bring some economic growth into the area at its industrial park.

After opening statements, the candidates fielded written questions submitted to chamber members from people in the audience.

Would you support current efforts to annex Henderson Point and Pass Christian Isles? Kelly said it wasn't easy to answer that question with a simple yes or no, but at this point he would not push for annexation of any area "until the city shows some financial responsibility." He warned voters need to look north to the Pineville area, which, he said, Long Beach wants to annex.

Kalif said she favored annexation because Pass Christian citizens are "suffering the burden of providing police and fire protection to those areas, and they should contribute to the cost."

What is your vision for Pass Christian by the year 2000 and 2020?

Kelly said he would push for a "tremendous growth" in residential development. He said Pass Christian could develop more as a suburban, residential community. He said more homeowners would add to the tax base, and stimulate businesses that would cater to the area's unique environment.

Kalif said she would push for "controlled economic development," along with residential growth.

"Our Industrial Park is not being utilized to its fullest potential," she said.

Both candidates said they are opposed to the Pecan Grove landfill, and object to taking in garbage from New Orleans. They also favored the city doing business with local merchants, if possible, and both opposed any casino development in Pass Christian.

Meet the candidates

Mayor candidate Margaret Jean Kalif is a two-term incumbent on the Pass Christian Board of Aldermen. If elected, she would be the first woman to ever hold the office of mayor in this town of 6,000-plus.

A lifelong resident of the Pass, she graduated from Pass Christian High School, got her undergraduate degree in business administration and a master's in education from the University of Southern Mississippi. She also holds a Specialist in Education degree from William Carey College.

She continues to teach, and currently is on the faculty at Bayou View Junior High in Gulfport.

Kalif was first elected to a four-year term on the Board of Aldermen in 1989 representing Ward 2, and won re-election over opposition in 1993.

She has supported projects to reduce flooding, and during her tenure, 15 miles of new streets have been paved.

Kalif has also supported landscape and beautification programs in the city, and improvements to War Memorial Park.

She was instrumental in returning the city's Mardi Gras parade to its original route, and has championed increased safety during Mardi Gras.

Kalif also pushed for the hiring of more police officers, and a full-time code inspector for the city. She supported complete computerization of City Hall and all city departments.

Kalif has worked with congressional leaders to complete dredging of the Pass Christian Harbor. She worked to close open ditches at the city's elementary school, and pushed to build a parking lot at Pass Christian Middle School.

Billy McDonald served in public office for 12 years, and says he has the experience needed to step in and immediately take over the mayor's office in Pass Christian.

McDonald served as supervisor for Harrison County, representing the Third District from 1976-1988. He was President of the Board of Supervisors from 1984 to 1987, and president of the Mississippi Association of Supervisors from 1987 to 1988.

A 1957 graduate of the University of Southern Mississippi, McDonald coached football and taught at Pass Christian High School from 1957 to 1958, and at St. Stanislaus High School from 1958 to 1959.

McDonald also served as chairman of the Harrison County Private Industry Council, and was a member of Mississippi's United States Bicentennial Commission.

Lawyer Joe Kelly is a newcomer to politics in Harrison County, and says he is running for Mayor to take the office away from professional politicians.

He says irresponsible spending, has put the city in a financial bind, and he pledges to stabilize property taxes within the city and in unincorporated areas.

A native of Pass Christian, Kelly graduated from city schools, and holds a Law degree from Tulane University and a B.A. in Management from Loyola University of New Orleans. He holds licenses to practice before the bar in Louisiana and Mississippi.

Kelly supports an "open door and open records" policy for City Hall. He said he will work to promote a master plan and economic growth plan for Pass Christian, and will promote plans to revitalize the city's Recreation Departments and its public parks.

In his campaign literature, Kelly stressed, "We don't want to change Pass Christian. We just want to change how things are done in Pass Christian."

Chiropractic Found More Effective than Hospital Care in 3-Year British Study

Beneficial effect of chiropractic on pain particularly clear

The outcome of a medical research council trial at the Medical College of St. Bartholomew's Hospital in London, England, comparing chiropractic with conventional hospital treatment for low back pain, reported that those patients treated by chiropractic "derived more benefit and long term satisfaction than those treated by hospitals."

The results of the study, "Randomized comparison of chiropractic and hospital out-patient management for low back pain: results from extended follow-up", were published in the August 4, 1995 British Medical Journal.

Professor Thomas Meade and colleagues at the Epidemiology and Medical Care Unit, using the Oswestry questionnaire, compared the progress of 741 low back patients (undergoing either chiropractic or hospital treatment) for levels of pain, daily activity, and satisfaction with their treatment. The number revealed that during three years, 29 percent more improved under chiropractic care than those treated by hospital care. "The beneficial effect of chiropractic on pain was particularly clear," the authors stated.

Chiropractic patients also expressed greater general satisfaction with their treatment, slept better and were able to sit for longer periods. The study further found that, in general, chiropractic patients experienced an improved quality of life following treatment.

This study is a follow-up of the 1990 Medical et al. study. At the time of the 1990 report, not all the 741 patients (18-64) had been in trial for more than six months. The 1995 three-year follow-up study presents the full results for all those patients for which data was available.

"The medical research council trial shows that patients with back pain can expect better results from their local chiropractor than from their local hospital," says Ian Hutchinson, president of the British Chiropractic Association. "Fortunately, the value of chiropractic is being increasingly recognized and I hope that following the trial results, NHS (National Health Service) purchasers and chiropractors can now arrange for more patients to benefit from chiropractic treatments," he said.

The scores of the new study on pain intensity before treatment and the various follow-up periods show significant improvements in pain "in those treated by chiropractic, including the changes early on... that is, at six months, when the proportions returning questionnaires were high."

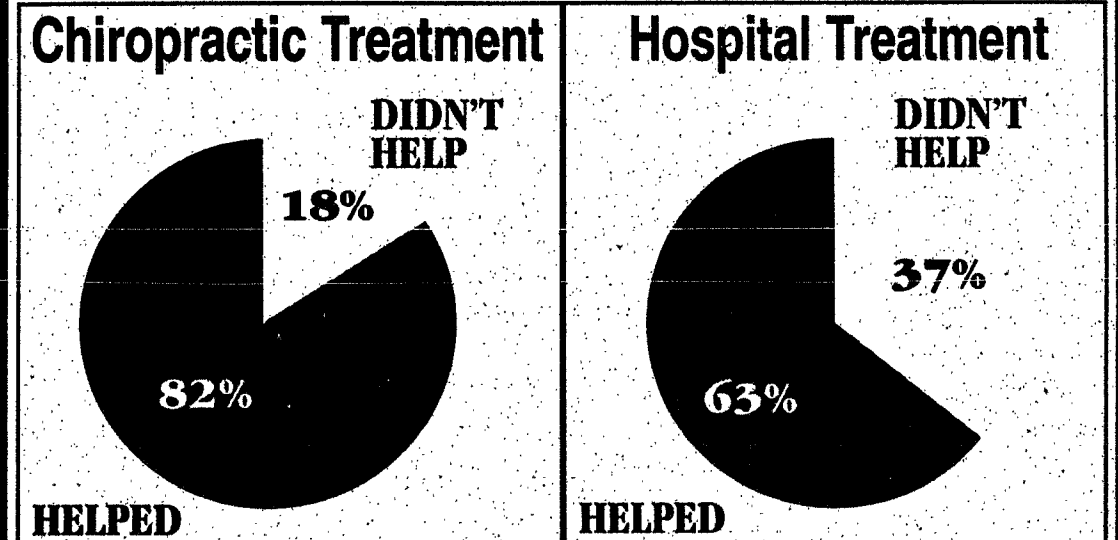

The authors noted that the other scores (personal care; lifting, walking, standing, sex life and traveling) "nearly all improved more in the patients treated with chiropractic, though most of the differences were small compared with the differences for pain."

The authors said they believed there is now more support for the need for "fastidious" trials focusing on "specific components of management and on the feasibility," and that trial's results show that chiropractic has a valuable part to play in the management of low back pain.

The study comes close on the heels of the recommendations of the British back pain guidelines developed by the Clinical Standards Advisory Group, published as Back Pain and Epidemiology and Cost of Back Pain. Those guidelines recommend that patients should not be put on waiting lists for hospital appointments, as that leads to increased time off work and disability. The British guidelines say that back patients should be seen earlier in the community by chiropractors, osteopaths and physiotherapists skilled in manipulation.

After three years, the percentage of patients who felt their treatment had helped their back pain:

"CUEVAS' QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It is the season for hummingbirds in my neighborhood.

Several of us on the block have feeders, where the feisty hummingbirds are really getting after each other.

One of my neighbors commented about how much the little birds fight and go so far as to even knock each other to the ground.

This must have been a good year for hummingbirds, because I have never seen as many as I have in recent days.

I realize that most of the hummingbirds use this area for a brief stopoff for other destinations. I wonder how many would visit the area if at least one person on each block would have a feeder.

Anyway, Jane and I enjoy watching them feed and feud.

People will steal just about anything, as the old saying goes.

Mrs. Yolanda Flores, OLA PTO vice-president, reported on Thursday that someone removed two of Our Lady Academy's directional signs from Highway 90.

One of the signs was in the west lane on the Bay bridge and the other was on the east lane of Highway 90 in Bay St. Louis.

The two signs are square with a green background and white letters.

OLA would like to have the signs returned. If you have any information, please call the Bay Police Department at 467-9221.

Motorists appear to have little respect for emergency vehicles.

Case in point: On Thursday evening, an American Medical Response unit was trying to enter Highway 90's west lane from Drinkwater. Motorists just kept moving along the highway, ignoring the emergency vehicle.

The ambulance's lights were flashing and siren was blasting.

When the vehicles did stop there was even an accident, as someone apparently plowed into another vehicle.

Ambulance drivers flash their lights and use their sirens when they are responding to an emergency, or transporting someone very sick to a hospital.

If an ambulance has to wait a minute or two to enter a highway, it could mean the difference between life and death for someone seriously ill.

It is my understanding that motorists should give ambulances the opportunity to respond to emergencies.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Democrat executive committee responds to Sea Coast Echo editorial

Dear Editor:

The Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee, in choosing to respond to editorial accusations by The Sea Coast Echo of impropriety with regard to actions taken by the Committee on September 11, 1995, wants the record to reflect that all actions taken on that date by the Committee were in strict adherence to the law and parliamentary procedure.

In acting upon a petition brought by a particular candidate for county office contesting his loss in the Democratic primary election, the Committee's chair gave appropriate notice of the hearing, as prescribed by law, to the petitioning candidate and his attorney, and secured the best legal counsel available to represent the interests of the Democratic Executive Committee.

The Committee conducted all aspects of the hearing in accordance with Mississippi law and Democratic Party rules. Each and every allegation in the petition brought before the Committee at the above-mentioned hearing was judged individually upon its merits, and a vote was taken based on any evidence presented.

The Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee is a diverse group of citizens from all areas of the county. We are teachers, preachers, working folks and retired persons. All are dedicated Hancock County residents who volunteer their time to serve the interests of our community.

The Committee agrees with The Echo that "denying" (the candidate's) request for a special runoff is probably the correct decision.

We encourage all registered voters to join us at the polls November 7 when we select leaders at all levels of state government to lead us into the next century.

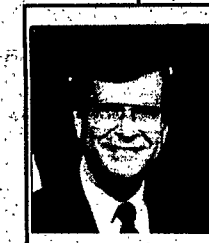

Respectfully submitted,
Geraldine Lang, Chair
Hancock County Democratic Executive Committee

FROM THE SENATE

By Senator Trent Lott

Work opportunity replaces welfare

The Senate's overwhelming passage of welfare reform on September 19 heralds the end of welfare as a cash entitlement. It will end welfare as we know it.

The legislation will impose a five-year lifetime limit on receiving welfare benefits. Truly needy individuals may move on and off the welfare rolls, but after a cumulative total of five years, they will become ineligible for welfare benefits. States, however, will have the flexibility to exempt some welfare cases from that five-year limit for hardship reasons.

The War on Poverty of the 1960s originally was intended to provide disadvantaged Americans with a safety net until they could get back on their feet and become self-sufficient. But 30 years and $5.4 trillion later, what has emerged is a giant government bureaucracy that tears at America's real safety net — the family.

Returning the primary responsibility to the states for designing and administering welfare programs, instead of relying on the failed "one size fits all" Washington approach, is the key to the Senate reforms. For starters, this approach will save taxpayers $70 billion over seven years and require a dramatic reduction in the federal welfare bureaucracy that now administers these programs.

The new reforms will require welfare recipients to work for their benefits as soon as the state determines they are "work ready," or within two years of entering the rolls, whichever is earlier. Half of the adult welfare recipients in one-parent households must work by the year 2000. Higher work participation rates — 90 percent beginning in 1999 — are imposed on two-parent welfare households. States also will have the option of requiring welfare recipients to perform community service in exchange for their benefits after three months of receiving benefits.

The new legislation will reduce or even terminate cash benefits for recipients who refuse to work and assures that "work" means work. If a recipient fails to show up for work, then a pro rata (or more, at the option of the state) reduction in benefits is imposed. States even may opt to terminate benefits. A welfare recipient whose cash assistance is reduced for failing to work no longer will get an offsetting increase in food stamp benefits or housing assistance.

Most important, the reforms the Senate has made will strengthen families and require personal responsibility. States will have the flexibility to end the current practice of giving more cash to mothers who have more children on welfare. Teenage mothers who have children out of wedlock must stay in school and live under adult supervision in order to receive benefits. Block grant funding of $75 million will be provided to encourage states to establish abstinence education programs to reduce illegitimacy.

President Clinton has indicated his support for the Senate-passed bill and his willingness to sign it into law. When he does, welfare no longer will be a way of life, and people no longer will be able to receive federal cash benefits just because they choose not to work.

Senator Lott welcomes any questions and/or comments about this column. Please write to: Senator Trent Lott, 487 Russell Building, Washington, D.C. 20510 (Attention: Press Office).

BREWER'S WORLD

By Jimmie Brewer

Four score and seven years ago.....The case of the State of California vs. Orenthal James Simpson began.

Fire was invented around the same time that the 12 honest unsuspecting jurors were selected to judge a man accused in the trial of the century. And now, generations later, attorneys on both sides have managed to bring this case to a close, and in doing so have exposed a justice system that too often forgets about the victims.

Like millions of other dudes and dudettes in the world, this trial has not only educated me, but has managed to literally play on my emotions.

Taylor to hold town meeting

U.S. Rep. Gene Taylor will host a town meeting Thursday, Oct. 5, 7:30 p.m., at the Hancock County Courthouse in Bay St. Louis.

Taylor, who has hosted more than a dozen town meetings throughout South Mississippi this year, said the meetings have been a great opportunity to meet with people and listen to their views and suggestions.

"I am especially looking forward to this meeting to hear what is on the minds of people in Hancock County," he said.

At the gathering, residents will be able to ask questions and voice their opinions about legislative issues that concern them.

"I have received a great deal of input from these meetings," Taylor said. "Our citizens know what is important to keep our nation strong."

For more information about the town meeting, call 466-3972 or toll free from anywhere in the district, 1-800-273-4363.

Marina

monies represented "a big step toward getting our marina started."

Boat Attorney, Gerald Gex, said the next step would be to get appraisals in efforts to buy out one property owner at the foot of Pleasure Street, so an invitation for public bids could go out for site preparation.

Gex said he doesn't anticipate a problem acquiring the land since the county was awaiting the Tidelands monies before making an offer to purchase.

The $500,000 plus another $260,000 the county's Port and Harbor Commission got from sale of the Bayou Caddy Marina, is enough to put out to bid work on the first phase of the County Marina.

As envisioned, by Compton Engineers, the marina would run between Lakeshore Drive and Bayou Caddy providing boat slips along Pleasure Street in an oblong pattern. About 144 private slips are planned, and four public slips.

There also would be about 26 parking spaces, a public boat ramp, a pavilion and a gazebo.

Monies in the state's Tidelands Trust Fund come from businesses that lease water bottoms in the Mississippi Sound. Since the advent of gaming, there has been a sharp increase in the funds.

The funds are held in trust by the Secretary of State's office, and doled out by DMR to communities impacted by the commercial leases.

Hancock County is scheduled to receive another $500,000 in Tidelands Funds for the proposed marina next year.

Closing arguments

But friends, that is not what it is about.

It's not about who's the better attorney, Marcia Clark or Johnnie Cochran, as too often the news media would have you think. It's about justice. It's about a fair trial for a defendant. It's about law and order. Most of all, it's about Ron Goldman and Nicole Brown.

It's about two very much alive and vibrant, young, good-looking, innocent people who are at one moment sharing a bit of their lives with each other, and in the next moment are brutally and graphically murdered.

I've logged in a lot of time listening to this case both on radio and TV. I didn't cheer each time the prosecution won an objection, or the defense seemed to make a good point. I thought about the victims and their families.

I didn't watch this trial as if I were watching the Super Bowl, as many TV analysts seemed to do, making play-by-play commentary as if Joe Montana were leading his football team down the field for a winning touchdown. I thought about the victims and their families.

I did not allow myself get derailed from the purpose of this trial. I was not impressed when Johnnie Cochran delivered his passionate closing statement making ridiculous analogies. To bring Adolf Hitler into this trial was underhanded, and only intended to play on the emotions of the jurors. It is not the jury's duty in that Los Angeles courtroom to stop racism in this world. The jury's only duty is to either convict or acquit, based on the evidence and not on rhetoric or showmanship.

I was not counting the number of times Barry Sheek objected to Marcia Clark's closing argument to see if he would break a record for the most objections. I was not watching to see who was the best dressed attorney. I did not care when Marcia Clark made the 10 best dressed list. This case is not about fashion, it's about murder.

I don't care how much money each juror will make after this case is over. It doesn't matter to me how many books or made-for-TV movies will spin off from this trial. All I want to see is justice for the victims involved.

O.J. Simpson is entitled to the best defense possible. He has assembled the most highly regarded defense lawyers in the world to defend him. And though apparently our justice system allows it, it appeared that the dream team was not defending their client, but prosecuting Mark Fuhrman and the LAPD. And no matter how despicable this Fuhrman is, his racist views should have no bearing on this case.

If O.J. did it, then let's convict, and not acquit based on matters that have nothing to do with this case.

Remember the victims. Praise for do-gooders this week goes out to attorneys who defend clients to the fullest of their ability and still keep their integrity. Peace.

Waveland Library to reopen Oct. 16

The Waveland Library's opening is now scheduled for 8:30 a.m. Monday, Oct. 16, according to library director Prima Plache. A ribbon-cutting ceremony is set for Friday, Oct. 20, 11 a.m.

The change in opening date is due to delays in the renovation process.

The Waveland Library, located on Coleman Avenue, is currently undergoing a complete interior renovation, including carpet replacement.

"Thanks to the cooperation of the City of Waveland and numerous volunteers and library staff members," Plache said, "the original renovation plan has been expanded to include extensive interior repairs, cleaning, new carpet, paint and furniture."

"Future plans call for landscaping around the building, a new sign and other improvements. We are excited about these renovations, and we know the public will be pleased with the finished product."

Waveland Mayor John Mason said, "Nothing has been done to this building since 1982, when library and city officials remodeled and expanded the building with state and local funds. The City is working closely with the Library System to provide an improved facility and services for the public."

When the library is reopened, users will be able to check out books, rods and reels, use reference materials, make copies and send faxes. Programming will include children's story hour, summer reading program and expanded literacy services.

Donna Hutchings will be the literacy and library services coordinator. She has been with the library system for five years; this is her third year at the Waveland site.

"We are excited about the unique role of the Waveland Library Literacy Center," Hutchings said, "and we have many volunteers who will be working as tutors and assistants for adult and children's services."

Plache said, "This plan for the Waveland Library Literacy Center is part of the library system's long-range plan."

Faith services

Faith Assembly of God is holding a series of special services at the church, 18701 Hwy. 43 (corner of 603 and 43), Sunday-Wednesday, Oct. 1-4, at 10:45 a.m. and 6 p.m. Sunday, 7 p.m. Monday-Wednesday. Special guests will be the Gemme Family (above) from Longmont, Colo. The Gemme Family travels full-time throughout the United States ministering in Word and music.

Man convicted of murder

A jury took only about 30 minutes to convict Gregory Allen Dominach in the murder of Waveland resident Walter Perkins.

Dominach was sentenced to life in prison.

Dominach, 38, of Metairie, La., attacked Perkins, 38, on Nov. 25 near Bordages Marina. Dominach was visiting his family's camp in Clermont Harbor at the time.

Defense attorney Herman Cox detailed Dominach's 18-year history of mental illness, and argued his client was insane during the killing because he not taken his daily requirement of lithium. He asked to jury not to convict on grounds of insanity.

Furious Hancock rally falls short

BY ED LEPOMA

Trailing 35-0 at the half, the Hancock High Hawks rallied to 41-35 before falling victim to Pearl River Central, 48-35, Friday night in Kiln.

Loyal fans stayed in their seats at the Hawks stadium until the last play of the game, hoping against hope that their team would pull out a victory.

Afterwards, Hawk coach Rocky Gaudin said his young team showed strength in the face of adversity.

"They could have rolled over and played dead, but they hung in there. I'm proud of all of them," Gaudin said.

The Blue Devils of Pearl River Central took over at the Hawk 23-yard line after the Hawks fumbled a lateral two plays after receiving the opening kickoff.

Fullback Danielle Jefferson took the Blue Devils opening play 17 yards to set up first and goal at the six, then teammate Anthony Neudeck carried to the five, and a play later quarterback Desmond Robinson sneaked in for the score. The PAT was good, and the Blue Devils led 7-0 with 9:52 remaining in the first quarter.

Junior quarterback Chad Peterson had the Hawks moving with a 10-yard pass and two runs of 12 and 13 yards, but with third and 13 at his own 38, his pass was intercepted by the Blue Devil's Robert Shoemaker. Shoemaker ran 85 yards into the end zone.

The touchdown was called, but the Blue Devils were flagged for off sides, and attempted the PAT from 36 yards out. Josh Hill's attempt failed, and the score was 13-0 with 5:21 to go in the first quarter.

On the third play after the Blue Devil's kickoff, Shoemaker picked off another Peterson pass, and Pearl River took over at the Hawks 37-yard line.

Ty Trahan was sent in to quarterback the Blue Devils, and broke right for 18 yards. Two plays later, Damon Walker took it in two yards for the touchdown. Danielle Jefferson ran in for two, and the score was 21-0 with 1:39 still to go in the first quarter.

Blue Devils Quarterback Desmond Robinson then engineered an 80-yard drive, capped off when Anthony Neudeck ran 55 yards for the score. Robinson's PAT was good, and the Blue Devils led 28-0 with 7:44 to go in the half.

After another Peterson interception that put the Blue Devils at the Hawks 18, quarterback Trahan connected with Shoemaker for a 20-yard touchdown pass. The PAT after was good, and the Blue Devils led 35-0 with 5:56 left in the second quarter.

Opening the second half, the Blue Devils got the ball on the Hawks 31 after a fumble, and several plays later, Neudeck ran right 16 yards to set up first and goal at the one-yard line. Quarterback Robinson sneaked it in, but the PAT went wide left to make it 41-0 with 7:43 to go in the third quarter.

The Hawks and the crowd came alive when John Woods took the ensuing kickoff 75 yards into the end zone. The PAT by Chris Green made it 41-6 with 7:26 remaining in the third quarter.

The Hawks defense tightened up, and Hancock took over on downs at its 30 after stuffing the Blue Devils on their next drive.

Chris Green put the Hawks on the move with a 17-yard dash left, and a 15-yard facemask penalty was levied against the Blue Devils. Shea Sharpe ran right for another 16 yards, and a facemask penalty was again called on the Blue Devils to put the Hawks at first and 10 at the Blue Devils 13.

The Hawks drive would go into the top of the fourth quarter, and Peterson went over from the one-yard line. The PAT by Chris Green was good, making it 41-14 with 11:48 to go in the game.

The Hawks defense hung tough again, and Brent Ladner returned the Blue Devils punt to the 48. Peterson ran left for 15 yards, and the Blue Devils were assessed another 15-yard facemask penalty, then another 15 yards for unsportsmanlike conduct.

The penalties gave the Hawks first and goal at the five, and Peterson ran in for the touchdown. The PAT was good, and made the score 41-21 with 7:20 left.

The Hawks forced a fumble in the next series, and Roland Cuevas recovered at the Blue Devils 39.

Peterson lobbed a 35-yard pass to Darrell Williams, setting up second and goal at the four-yard line.

Jimmy Jones went in from the one, and the PAT was good, making it 41-28 with 4:38 remaining.

Mike Fejka, who placed kickoffs out of the end zone all night, finally got one to land on the Blue Devils 10-yard line, and the Hawks Jimmy Jones recovered a fumble to set up the Hawks next score from the 19.

Peterson threw a touchdown pass to Brent Hatten, and the good PAT made it a whole new ballgame at 41-35, with 2:56 remaining.

The Hawks tried an on-sides kick, but the Blue Devils recovered at their own 47. Three plays later the Blue Devils Danielle Jefferson scored on a 25-yard run to seal the victory. The PAT was good, and the final score was 48-35 with 1:37 left on the clock.

The defeat puts the Hawks at 0-2 in Division 7-4A play. They are 3-3 overall, and face Oak Grove next week.

Seventh-ranked PRC is 2-0 in the Division and 6-0 overall.

Bulldogs bite Pirates 33-0

BY TRACI BONNEY

Pass Christian fell 0-6, 0-2 Friday night as the Perry Central Bulldogs shut out the Pirates 33-0 in District 8 3-A action.

The Bulldogs outdistanced the Pirates both on the ground and in the air, netting 196 yards rushing to Pass High's 98, and 120 yards passing to the Pirates' 62.

Pirate head coach Joseph Brown said, "We didn't execute well on the field tonight; we didn't block well. We're going to have to go back and work on it some more. We just have to keep trying."

The Bulldogs drew first blood during their second possession of the game on a two-yard run by Henry Jones. Kicker Chad Guinn made the PAT to make it 7-0 with 4:35 left in the first quarter.

Perry Central's next score came early in the second quarter. The Bulldogs were first and 10 at the Pirate 21-yard line when Jones hit Robert Mitchell with a pass for the TD. Guinn's kick went wide; the score was 13-0 with 11:31 to go in the first half.

The Pirates retained possession for the next 5 1/2 minutes, but fell short of a first down at the Bulldog 24. Perry Central took over on downs, but managed to lose three yards before punting two minutes later.

The Pirates kept the ball for the rest of the half and came within yards of a score. The play started at the horn; Raynoid Dedeaux hit Henry Henderson from the 34-yard line with what would have been a TD strike, but the Bulldogs smothered Henderson at the eight-yard line to end the half.

The Pirates took the opening kick of the second half, but punted away just over two minutes later from their own 17. The Bulldogs took over on the Pirate 38-yard line.

Five rushes later, it was 19-0 for the Bulldogs. A pass from Guinn to Jones made it 21-0 with 7:50 on the third quarter clock.

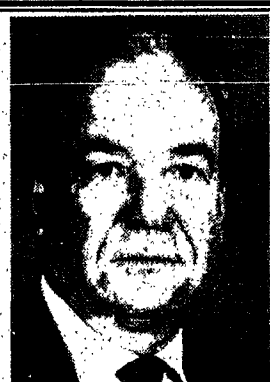

The Bulldogs didn't score again until the final period. Just over 4 1/2 minutes into the fourth quarter, Guinn connected with Laraven Moody in the end zone for a 21-yard TD pass. Guinn attempted to score an extra two points, but the Pirates broke up the pass to Jones. With 7:21 left in the game, it was 27-0.

Leroy Handy set Moody up for the last score of the game, hitting him for a 55-yard pass reception. Guinn's PAT kick went wide, sealing the score at 33-0 with 1:31 left.

The game ended with an incomplete Pirate pass attempt.

The Pirates host Poplarville Friday in a district contest at Frances F. McDonald Stadium.

Tigers win homecoming

BY RICHARD MEEK
The defining moment of a season is often not one game, but one play, a snapshot of a 10-week photo essay.

For Bay High, that moment may have come late Friday night as fog was welcoming itself to Tiger Stadium, when T.J. Hawkins deflected an Oak Grove pass on fourth down that preserved the Tigers' 21-20 homecoming victory.

The win puts Bay High back in the thick of the District 7-4A race with a 1-1 record. The Tigers are 2-3 overall, with all three losses coming against then-ranked teams.

"This is really memorable," Hawkins said. "I'm a senior, this is my last homecoming."

"This is a win that will help us to get started in the right direction. We know we can play with anybody," added Hawkins, as he waged a losing battle on keeping the fog off of his glasses.

Moments earlier, Hawkins had little trouble seeing the Warriors' Donnie Bridges as he attempted a pass over the middle on fourth and two at the Oak Grove 27-yard line with under 40 seconds remaining. Hawkins moved up from his defensive back and timed his move perfectly to knock down Bridges' pass.

"I played the receiver on the inside because I knew (Oak Grove) would go short to try to get the first down," Hawkins said. "I was able to read the eyes of the quarterback."

The Warriors had begun their last possession at the Oak Grove 19-yard line with 1:15 remaining but were unable to pick up a first down.

"This win should do a lot for us," Bay High coach Walt Esslinger said. "It proves to the team that we can win the close ones."

Wali Shabazz led a Tiger offense that shunned the pass with 115 yards on 23 carries and one touchdown. James Benton, running mostly from the wingback slot, gained 57 yards on nine carries.

Quarterback Jonathan Favre completed one of only four attempts, but it went to Shabazz for 20 yards and a touchdown shortly before halftime that gave the Tigers a 13-12 lead.

"I didn't think we would be able to run as well as we did," Esslinger said. "But our offensive line did a real good job. We also wanted to shorten the game and keep (Oak Grove) off of the field."

The Tigers took a 7-0 lead early in the first quarter when Jeremy Turcotte recovered a high snap on an Oak Grove punt attempt.

After an ineffective first quarter, the Warriors switched to a no-huddle offense to begin the second and drove 87 yards on eight plays. A nine-yard Bridges to Trey Light pass brought the Warriors to 7-6 with 7:34 remaining in the first half. But in what turned out to be one of the game's most crucial plays, Reggie Williams blocked the PAT.

Oak Grove's no-huddle continued to cause the Tigers problems, as the Warriors drove 41 yards on three plays following a Bay High fumble.

Wali Shabazz of Bay High takes off on another of his 23 carries that produced 115 yards and two touchdowns. (Echo staff photo by Richard Meek)

Bridges' 24-yard pass to Ashley Garriga gave the Warriors a 12-7 lead with 6:07 before halftime. Bridges' pass on a two-point conversion attempt fell incomplete.

The Tigers, who lost three first half fumbles, answered with a 70-yard, eight-play drive, a drive that was aided by two Oak Grove offside penalty that gave Bay High first downs. The payoff came on Favre's pass to Shabazz with 45 seconds remaining. The Tigers appeared to convert a two-point conversion attempt but it was nullified by a holding penalty. Shabazz's PAT attempt from 30 yards missed narrowly to the right. Bridges was 8 of 13 at the half for 89 yards and two scores. During one stretch, he completed seven consecutive passes for 77 yards. "The no-huddle gave us a lot of problems in the first half," Hawkins said.

But a halftime adjustment that saw the Tigers switch to a zone shut down an Oak Grove offense that relies on precision timing. Bridges was only 4 of 14 in the second half for 30 yards. "By switching to zone, we were able to play up on the receivers more," Hawkins said. "We knew we had backup help so we were able to be more aggressive. We didn't have to play so far off of the line."

Oak Grove began the second half by recovering an onside kick at the Tiger 47. But four plays netted five yards, giving Bay High excellent field position at its 42.

Nine rushing plays later, Shabazz scored from two yards out to give the Tigers a 21-12 lead with 5:43 left in the third quarter. Another Oak Grove penalty carried to the Warrior 16.

Oak Grove was cited for 13 penalties, totaling 111 yards. Oak Grove pulled to within 21-20 on Bridges' two-yard run and Robert Gillispie's two-point conversion with 4:44 remaining.

Bay High followed with perhaps its biggest drive of the season. Although the Tigers' five-play drive ended in another turnover, Bay High picked up two first downs and consumed over three minutes, leaving the Warriors with 81 yards to go in 1:15.

Esslinger credited assistant Joe Shaw for noticing a change in the Oak Grove defense that allowed the Tigers to run their bread-and-butter drive play. "That's our favorite play," Esslinger said.

Pearl River trounces East Central

Jerel Posey rushed for three touchdowns and passed for two more to lead the Pearl River Wildcats to a 58-10 decision over the East Central Warriors in Decatur Thursday.

Posey, a Pell City, Ala., sophomore, had scoring runs of 6, 3, and 6 yards. He tossed a 48-yard pass to Michael Oatis in the first quarter and a 43-yard strike to Tim Pittman in the second.

Posey has 9 rushing touchdowns this year. The two passes for touchdowns are the team's first this year.

On the night, Antonio Carrillo a former Hancock High School player, kicked seven of eight extra points and nailed a 27-yard field goal.

Pearl River took a quick 14-0 lead before East Central, under former PRCC coach Willie Coats, capped a seven-play 69-yard drive on a 40-yard pass from Jake Kissiah to Tim Livingston.

The Posey to Pittman pass put PRCC up 21-7, and Eddie Conerly's 17-yard fumble return for another score put the game out of reach 28-10 by halftime.

The Wildcats scored the first three times they had the football in the second half as Posey scored from the 3- and 6-yard lines, and Jarvis Lipscomb returned an interception 37 yards for another six points.

Fullback Percy Daniels got in on the scoring barrage as he rambled 10 yards for the Wildcats' last touchdown of the night.

Posey completed three of six passes for 138 yards, and rushed eight times for 100 yards. Kenshun Smith rushed 16 times for 70 yards and Johnnie Horne carried nine times for 63 yards.

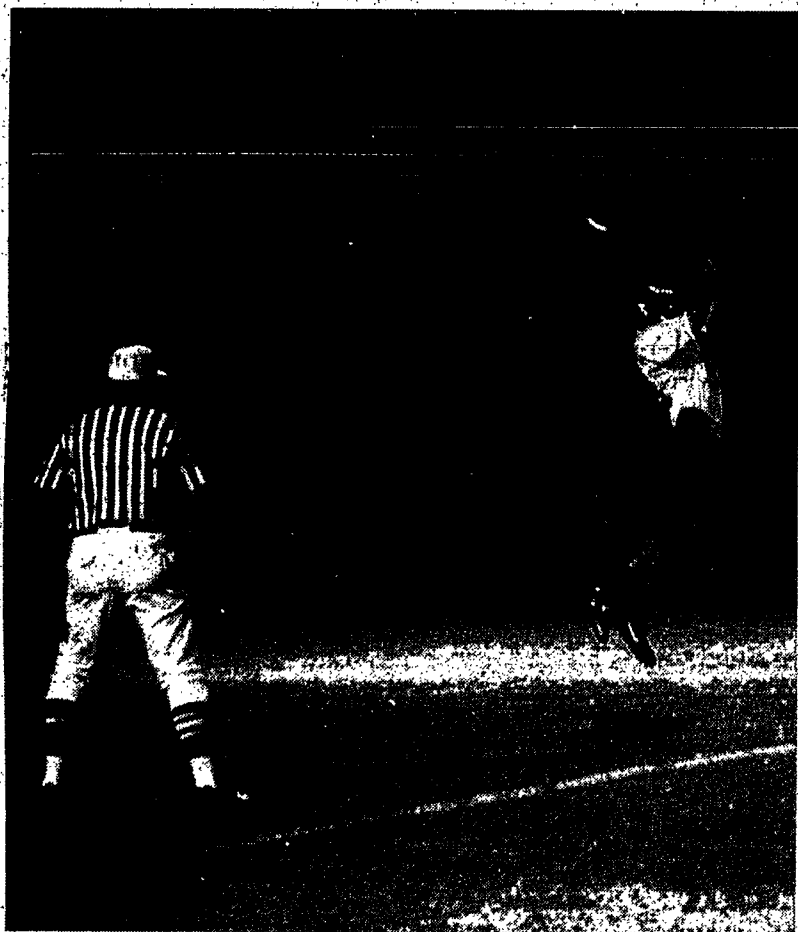

Oatis caught two passes for 95 yards and one touchdown.

Wildcat head coach Keith Daniels played everyone dressed out for the second time this season. Two weeks ago, PRC beat Coahoma 56-18.

PRC picked up 24 first downs while rushing for 368 yards and 506 yards' total offense. East Central netted just 16 yards on the ground and 194 through the air.

the $350,000, plus accrued interest Alpha still owes for 1994, and another $290,000 assessed for 1995.

Earlier this month the Board of Supervisors and the Assessor had agreed to reduce property tax assessments on the barge and the equipment aboard, and Alpha was supposed to come back to the Board with a plan to pay out the outstanding taxes over a period of several months.

If Alpha refuses to post a bond, sources close to the supervisors say Keyes could go into Circuit Court, and get an injunction to stop the barge from moving or to seize the slot machines and other equipment aboard.

Supervisors are worried that Jubilee would lay off some of its 500 workers once a vessel swap is made. They also forecast a future loss in property and sales taxes when a smaller ship comes into the market.

The Cotton Club boat is a two-decker with only 27,600 square feet of gambling space. It has 539 slot machines, compared to 869 now aboard Jubilee, and only 33 gaming tables compared to 52 on the Jubilee.

There is no on-board restaurant, but Jubilee officials said they will build a new shoreline restaurant and erect a special events building that would be connected to the Cotton Club by a skywalk.

Jubilee and Alpha Gulf Coast officials also promised supervisors there would be no layoffs if a swap is made.

They said the Casino would be closed for about a month once the swap is made, but most employees will be put to work preparing the new boat and site for the reopening. Others would be allowed to take vacation during the downtime.

Employees would also retain seniority and medical benefits during the closure, they promised.

the Clinic "join the active medical staff at Hancock Medical Hospital."

Contacted by phone Friday, Shanks said she had not yet received the letter for the Board of Supervisors, but heard of the offer through reports in the media.

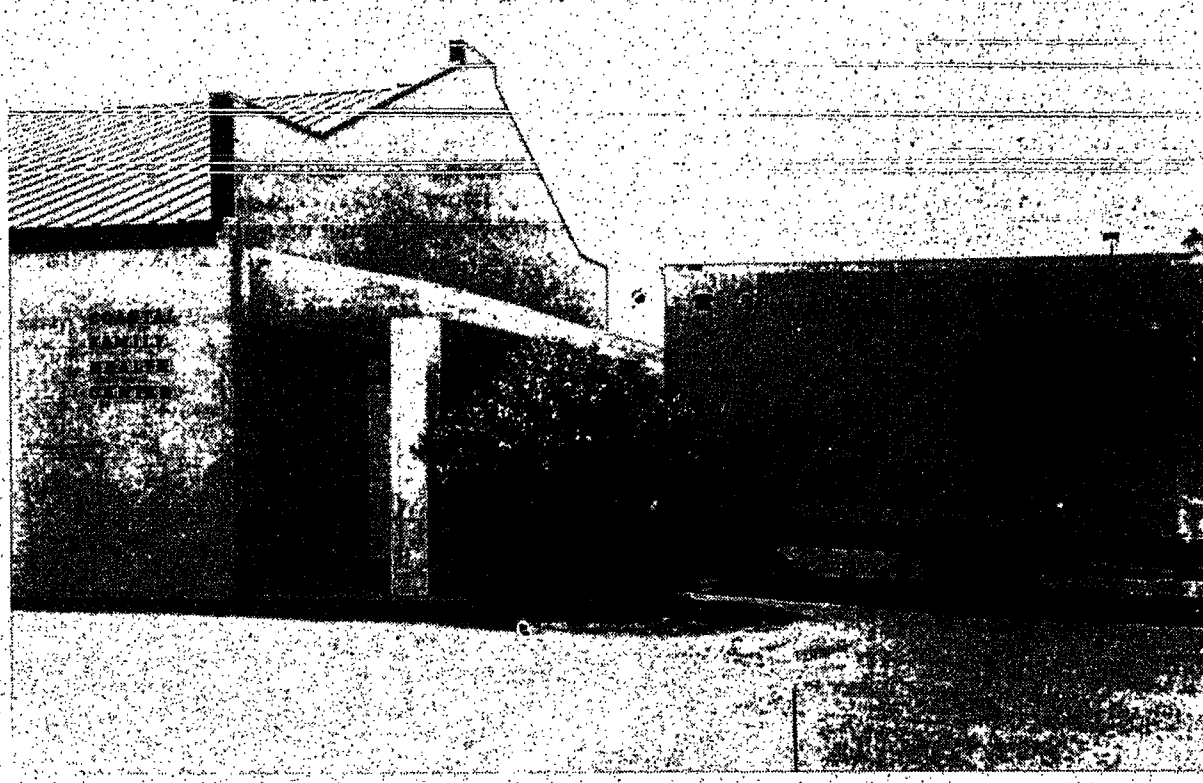

"We've told them that we were willing to look at any concrete, specific proposals," said Shanks.

She said Coastal would close its clinic doors Friday, as planned, but she would call Coastal's Board of Directors into a meeting soon after she receives the supervisors' letter making the new offer.

The offer tendered by the Board of Supervisors was formulated Sept. 21 during a meeting at Hancock Medical Center attended by some supervisors, and board directors of the hospital and Coastal.

At that meeting, and in previous announcements, Shanks said her Board made a "painful" decision to close its clinic in Bay St. Louis because it was costing $500,000 a year to operate, and it was difficult to find a fulltime physician to participate in the program.

William Tate, a member of Hancock Medical Center's Board of Trustees, made the suggestion to cut staffing in half, using one doctor and one nurse. And, supervisors said they would provide a rent-free building.

Tate said Friday he and other members of the Hospital's Board were aware of the new offer made to Coastal.

He said the hospital has informed supervisors they will work with Coastal to recruit a new physician to run the clinic, and to develop backup physician services in the event the doctor selected is out due to illness or other personal reasons.

The announcement that Coastal would close its clinic here created a crisis for Hancock County's uninsured and underinsured citizens seeking medical help.

It would force the poor and elderly to seek treatment at three of Coastal's clinics that would remain open in Harrison County.

It would also pose a transportation problem for many, who might be forced to get to clinics in Gulfport and Biloxi from as far away as Pearlinton.

Coastal is partially funded by a $3 million grant from the Public Health Service, with another $4 million in revenues coming from reimbursement from Medicare and Medicaid, and sliding fees charged to patients, according to their ability to pay.

Shanks had said the clinic in Bay St. Louis served only nine percent of the patient load, but chewed up 16 percent of Coastal's budget.

Coastal has operated the clinic here since 1987.

Waste

He wondered why supervisors couldn't offer Boudin some county land somewhere else for his business.

The petition being circulated by Weiss said the operation attracts rats, snakes and fleas, and the odor fouls the neighborhood.

Weiss also claims cleaning the garbage compacting trucks and other vehicles on site will ultimately pollute the neighborhood's groundwater supply.

He said neighborhood residents plan to picket the site next Saturday, Oct. 8.

Still others said the business decreases the value of their property, and poses a danger to children in the area.

Mike DeSalvo told supervisors his and some of his neighbors' garbage wasn't picked up after they complained on television about the operation.

Seymour told residents he has instructed Bay St. Attorney Gerald Gex to a state and federal health and environmental agencies to or the situation.

Near the close of the day, District 2 Supervisor Kellar made a motion to special legislation to allow zoning south of Interstate 10.

All but one of the supervisors are going out of office in January except District 3's Howard Lizana, who faces opposition in November. But, they endorsed Kellar's idea to get the area zoned anyway, after residents said they would approve it in a referendum.

The whole time the debate was raging, Joey Boudin was in the meeting room, but supervisors did not ask him to speak, and tell his part of the story.

Later, he told the Echo that his operation meets all government guidelines, and he is not violating any health or safety regulations.

As far as the zoning drive, Boudin said he was "surprised that a supervisor representing the northern part of the county wants to zone the south part of the county." He said his operation would be grandfathered in even if zoning legislation passed.

Under a contract awarded by the county's Solid Waste District in 1994, Boudin was low bidder on picking up household garbage in Bay St. Louis, Waveland and in unincorporated areas of Hancock County. The contract expires in March of 1996, and will be put out for public bid again.

The contract pays Boudin about $50,000 a month, and Boudin says he has a fleet of about 16 compacting trucks, and some dump trucks. He also has commercial customers here, in Pearl River County and in St. Tammany, he said.

Boudin said he is providing Bay St. Louis and Waveland with garbage pickup twice a week, and his trucks pick up once a week in unincorporated areas.

"And, we're doing it for $15,000-a-month less than what Waste Management offered, and $20,000 a month less than BFI bid," Boudin claimed.

He said the household garbage is dumped at sites in Pecan Grove, Picayune and in St. Tammany Parish.

Boudin runs the operation from property he owns on Spruce Street off Harbor Drive, but is preparing to move it to a 10-acre tract he owns on Harbor Drive. He said this would give his truck better access to Highway 90.

Boudin, who is the son of Bobby Boudin, the county's Director of Civil Defense, said residents were alarmed after they spotted bulldozers excavating a large hole on his new site.

"We're not planning to dump anything there," said Boudin. "We need to dig, so we can use the fill to elevate our new shop and maintenance facility we're going to build. It needs to be raised about four feet," he said.

He said the new site would be fenced off and would be "about 500 to 600 feet away from the nearest house." He plans to make a fish pond out of the excavated hole.

"I am a fifth generation resident of Hancock County," he said. "I employ 25 people, all Hancock County residents, and I buy all my materials and equipment in the county."

"I'm providing the service I was contracted by the county to provide."

In other action, the Supervisors gave County Sheriff Ronnie Peterson authorization to enter into a lease-purchase option for 10 new cars.

The vehicles would cost about $17,527 each and it would cost another $2,450 each to outfit them with radios and other equipment.

The money was available in the Sheriff Department's budget, supervisors were told.

The Board also approved plans to move a drainage ditch that is in the way of future expansion at Hancock Medical Center.

The hospital will pay engineering and design fees and for clearing the right of way and access path on both sides of the ditch.

Bay St. Louis will be asked to buy and install a larger culvert on Drinwater Boulevard, and the county will excavate the site and provide retaining materials for turns in the ditch and fill in the existing ditch.

Improve investment strategy with asset allocation

The process of building an investment portfolio often has no rhyme or reason.

You purchase individual stocks, bonds or mutual funds based on recommendations of an investment broker, an article in a financial magazine or advice from your family and friends.

Before long, you may own a mix of investments without even considering how or if that mix suits your investment goals.

Most experts agree that you need to look beyond your immediate investing desires to succeed over the long term.

Financial experts use the term "asset allocation" to describe the process investors use to determine how much of their assets should go toward various investment categories (namely, stocks and bonds) and how much an investor should maintain in cash.

While certain investments may suit your financial needs, their associated risks may not. To determine the best strategy for allocating your assets, review the following guidelines:

1) Establish your financial objectives. To figure out how much you should save, you should know what you're saving for.

For example, if you have children, you may have paying their college tuitions as one of your goals. If you own a business and it has tied up a lot of your capital, you may want to generate income from your investments, and so on.

The earlier you establish your long-term goals, the easier you and your financial adviser can choose the most appropriate asset allocation.

2) Factor in your time horizon. Now that you have identified your goals, you must pinpoint a time frame in which you want to meet these goals. Consider your age and how it impacts your time frame.

The rule of thumb states that the younger you are, the more risk you can assume because you have more time to recover losses. Younger investors should invest more in growth stocks, while older investors should allocate more assets toward bonds.

However, the age-and-time combination may point you to different options. For example, a couple in their 20s with a newborn child will need different investments than a couple in their 40s with a newborn; the older couple also has a shorter time period until retirement that they must consider.

3) Determine how much risk you can assume without losing sleep. While you know your objectives and your time horizon, you must also feel comfortable with the risks associated with the most appropriate investment vehicles.

We all would like to earn high returns on our investments, but if an investment's risk causes you emotional discomfort, it may not benefit to accept that risk.

Define what risk means to you. Ask yourself: What do I consider risk (loss of principal value, a reduced amount of income)? How do these risks affect the vehicles in which I want to invest? How often, and to what degree, can I tolerate fluctuations in my portfolio's value?

If you're losing sleep over your investments, then they do not make the best match for your risk suitability.

Asset allocation can greatly help you prepare your portfolio for the long term. Since this concept focuses more on your individual situation than market conditions, you give yourself a better shot at achieving your financial goals. Talk to a professional investment broker to see if your investment combinations will help you achieve financial success.

Occhi named to board

Robert J. Occhi, general manager of Coast Electric Power Association, Bay St. Louis, has been elected to the board of directors for the National Rural Utilities Cooperative Finance Corporation, London, Va.

Occhi will represent the states of Mississippi, Alabama, Kentucky and Tennessee when he takes his District 3 position in March 1996.

The organization, commonly referred to as CFC, was incorporated in 1969 to provide market capital and numerous other financial services to the 1,000 plus rural electric systems in the nation.

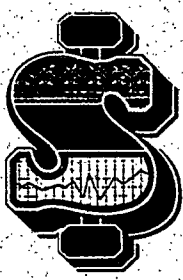

CFC is headed by a 22-member board representing 11 geographically defined districts. The board members, who represent both rural electric managers and elected directors, set policies, establish programs and develop strategies.

Occhi also was named first vice president of the Electric Power Association of Mississippi at their annual meeting in September. He has been an active member of the based in Jackson, represent the 26 electric cooperatives that operate in the state and deliver electric service to about 600,000 customers.

Occhi brings more than 20 years' experience in the electric utility industry to these leadership positions.

Is your credit report accurate?

In today's world, your credit history is sacred. You can't rent an apartment, apply for insurance or obtain a credit card, car loan or mortgage without a check of your credit history.

But you may not be aware of all the other companies and individuals who can gain access to your credit records. If you apply to a university, try to join a country club—even if you're a candidate for a new job—these organizations and companies also may be checking out your credit report.

What they will find in your report is the history of your payments of loans, mortgages, credit cards and other debt. They will learn not only whether you made all your regular payments, but also how prompt you were. Judgments, bankruptcies, liens and other unfavorable events are all there.

No problem, you say. You've always paid your bills on time, you never carry balances on your credit cards, and you've never been sued. So what if people are checking your records?

According to a recent report in Personal Finance magazine, up to 33 percent of all credit reports contain serious errors. These include incorrect tax identification numbers, limited data or worse mistakes that can be damaging. These very mistakes can result in your being denied a car loan, mortgage or even a new job.

Obviously, it's to your benefit to make sure your credit records are correct, and it's pretty simple to do so. There are three major credit reporting bureaus—TRW, Equifax and Trans Union—and all will provide you with a copy of your credit report. The report is free if you've been denied credit within the past 60 days; otherwise, there is generally a small charge. However, TRW provides one complimentary report each year.

To obtain a report, you must submit a written request, and each credit bureau has specific requirements about what information to include in your request. All three bureaus provide recorded phone messages that spell out all the details of obtaining a credit report. Here are the phone numbers:

TRW: 800-682-7654

Equifax: 800-685-1111

Trans Union: 216-779-7200

How do third parties get copies of your report? They must submit requests with your signature approving release of information. However, you may sometimes give this approval unknowingly—for example, when you apply for credit.

Offers of "pre-approved" credit, according to a TRW representative, can be misleading. Signing an application for a "pre-approved" loan or credit card simply means you agree to a credit check. If your credit report is negative, you'll probably still be denied.

These national credit bureaus store credit information as reported by your creditors. Each bureau's report may contain different information. If you find any errors, correct them immediately. To do so, you typically must file a dispute with the credit bureau and prove the error. Even if there are no apparent mistakes now, it's a good practice to recheck your credit reports during your annual financial check-up.

Credit is a way of life for most Americans. It's not only your responsibility to use it properly, but also to make sure it's recorded properly.

George Ohr Festival set for Oct. 27-29

The George Ohr Fall Festival of Arts (previously known as the George Ohr Extravaganza) will be held Oct. 27-29 at the George Ohr Arts and Cultural Center in Biloxi.

The festival, sponsored by the City of Biloxi and the Arts and Cultural Center, celebrates Ohr's work and showcases contemporary potters and other artists from the region. Weekend events include a juried art exhibit, pottery-making exhibitions, for-sale arts and crafts and children's activities, along with good music and delicious food.

The second annual Mad Potter's Ball—festive evening that helps raise funds for the Ohr Center—will be held Friday night. The evening, which will follow the theme of George Ohr as the Man in the Moon, will feature food, sparkling wine, music and a silent auction. Tickets went on sale Sept. 15, and the public is invited to help support the center while enjoying a gala evening at the center.

George Ohr, known as the Mad Potter of Biloxi, was a turn-of-the-century potter who in recent years has come to be recognized as a brilliant artist.

His work is especially noted for the incredibly thin walls and unique glazes of his creations.

The Center bearing his name houses more than 120 pieces of Ohr pottery—the largest public collection of the artist's work.

Call (601) 374-5547 for more details about festival activities or the George E. Ohr Arts and Cultural Center.

"The Fantasticks" coming to Diamondhead

"Try to remember a time in September when life was fair and oh so mellow..." how could one forget this beautiful song that flows through the hit musical "The Fantasticks". The show comes to the Diamondhead Country Club Stage on Sunday, Oct. 22 at 7:30 p.m.

Diamondhead Performing Arts Society is proud to present this, the longest running musical in the world and in the American theatre-30 years!

"The Fantasticks" offers its audience a moving experience not soon to be forgotten. This is a simple but touching love story, a playful variation of the Romeo and Juliet theme that, though humorous at times, maintains a quite sophisticated style. The impressive score, melodic, humorous, at times sentimental, manages, like the show itself, to be both simple and complex. The

Jefferson Performing Arts Society's Broadway Pit Orchestra will add the finishing touch to one of the hits of the DPAS 1995 season. Tickets are $12.50 for adults and $3.50 for students. They may be purchased at Diamondhead Discount Drugs, Yellow Bird in Bay St. Louis or at the door on the evening of the performance.

Save time & money with Coast Windshield Repair

Are you tired of staring through a cracked or "dinged-up" windshield because you fear the cost of having it replaced? Well, fear no more! Call Joe Kersanac, better known as the windshield doctor, at Coast Windshield Repair.

Established in 1988, Kersanac has performed over 5,000 repairs on the Gulf Coast with his mobile service.

With the mobile service, there is absolutely no inconvenience to the customer. You need not be late for work or have to arrange for a ride while waiting for your windshield to be repaired. Kersanac will come to your home or your office and make the repairs on the spot.

The prompt, quality service is available seven days a week. Services offered include the repair of any windshield damage, including dings or cracks up to 24 inches in size. Coast Windshield Repair can also help in the removal of scratches in windshields. Kersanac said in most cases, your insurance company will pay for windshield repairs, so there is no out of pocket expense, and there is no charge if you are not completely satisfied with the repairs. All work comes with a written guarantee that the cracks will not spread or discolor.

Don't stare at that crack or ding any longer. Call Joe Kersanac at 467-5136 or 1-800-748-8540 for a free estimate.

Far away, in the wilds of Africa, lives one of nature's most endangered treasures. So irresistible, this playful little elephant is full of personality and charm. With lovable ears and a curling trunk, it's hard to imagine that one day he and his kind could vanish forever!

Now, award-winning nature artist Ruane Manning brings this adorable endangered elephant calf to life in "African Elephant."
Nestled safely and securely in his own natural habitat deep in the jungle, this little one and his lush home are actually two enchancing sculptures in one, for the baby is easily removed from the base and can be displayed separately!

"African Elephant" premieres the Protect Nature's Innocents
Sculpture Collection — a series of heartwarming sculptures portraying the world's most beloved endangered baby animals. Each sculpture is a wealth of captivating detail, beautifully crafted and hand-painted in colors true to nature's own. By acquiring this important inaugural issue, you will also have the right — without any obligation — to preview subsequent sculptures in the collection. As always, our 30 Day 100% Satisfaction Guarantee assures you order without risk.

This endearing baby elephant is just waiting for you to give him a new home. Submit your order today! ©1995 HC. All Rights Reserved.
